LEE AND WILSON MAKE A DEAL

U.S., Others Answer Call For Petroleum Squeeze

LONDON (AP)—Six countries have promised Britain they will back the developing international ban on oil sales to rebellious Rhodesia.

British authorities identified the six as the United States, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Japan. All have a stake in firms that in the past supplied Persian Gulf oil to Rhodesia.

Assurances from the six are over and above bans imposed independently by such oil-producing states as Iran, Libya, Kuwait and Iraq.

The British feel South Africa and Portugal will soon cease defying the ban openly.

The Rhodesian regime is going to find itself in "terrible economic trouble," Cledwyn Hughes, British minister of state for Commonwealth relations, said, returning from a four-day visit to Zambia, told reporters at London airport.

There were signs that a big section of the opposition Conservative party intends to criticize the oil ban on grounds it will alienate white Rhodesians from Britain rather than from Smith.

Wilson stressed in the crowded House:

"These measures are directed to one purpose only—the return of Rhodesia to constitutional rule."

Mass Murder And Mutilation Planned By Indonesian Reds?

SINGAPORE (AP)—Indonesian Communists planned a terror campaign against tens of thousands of persons if the Oct. 1 coup attempt had succeeded, highly reliable sources say.

The campaign of horror was to include eye-gouging and other mutilation as well as murder, the sources said, and the victims were to include U.S., British and other Western diplomats and their families.

The sources gave this account:

The army recently discovered the plan in the diaries of some 600 cadres of the Indonesian Communist party (PKI). The campaign, restricted to Jakarta, was to be carried out by cells of four to six Communists each.

The cell members kept detailed notes on their intended victims. Some diaries had floor plans of the victims' homes.

U.S. Spacecraft Heading Out

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI)—Pioneer VI, the solar research spacecraft launched Thursday from Cape Kennedy, was reported streaking toward the sun at 63,387 miles an hour today.

The 140-pound spacecraft was returning data on solar particles and magnetism, said a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center.

A report late Sunday night placed the spacecraft more than 503,000 miles from earth. Its six-month, 50,000,000 mile journey will carry it on an orbit around the sun between earth and Venus.

Danger 'Small' From Ice Gadgets

OTTAWA (CP)—The hazard of "coolers" or eternal ice cubes is small, says Dr. R. A. Chapman, director of the food and drug directorate.

The directorate has completed investigation of samples here following reports that the plastic ice cubes contained contaminated water.

"Some do contain contaminated water, but we have not been able to isolate pathogenic disease-producing organisms," said Dr. Chapman in an interview. "There have been no reports of human illness." In either Canada or the United States following the use of the water-filled plastic cubes.

"We'll continue to keep the subject under investigation, and we're keeping the provincial departments of health informed of the results obtained. This seems to be the best course of action at the moment."

Rumblings In East Germany After Trade Expert's Death

BERLIN (AP)—The sudden, violent death of East Germany's top planner has cast the spotlight on Soviet trade dealings with the East German regime.

Since the official East German news agency ADN announced Dec. 3 that Deputy Premier Erich Apel, 48, had committed suicide, a torrent of speculation has engulfed Germany, East and West.

Apel, head of the East German Economic Planning Commission, died the same day he was to sign for East Germany a new $5,000,000,000-mark ($18,500,000,000) trade agreement with the Soviet Union. The West Germans seized on this as an indication he had rejected one-sided deals with the Soviet Union.

Various commentators have stated that Apel, although a Communist, went to his grave because he stood up for German against demands by the Russians.

But terms of the new trade agreement available so far show no dramatic grounds for suicide. Prices, while not published in detail, may favor the Soviet Union. But this was true of all past agreements, and they did not stop a steady growth of the East German economy.

The East German press has

RCAF Joins Oil Airlift

OTTAWA (CP)—Four RCAF transport planes will join an airlift to supply oil and other supplies to Zambia, a neighboring country of Rhodesia whose oil supplies have been cut off by the new Rhodesian regime.

Prime Minister Pearson, who made the announcement at a post-cabinet press conference, also said that his government has placed an embargo on Canadian oil shipments to Rhodesia.

Polish Cardinal Speaks Out Again

WARSAW (CP)—Poland's Roman Catholic primate, Stefan Cardinal Wysynski, Sunday night accused government censors of altering the text of a message to West and East German bishops that invited them to attend celebrations here next year.

The invitation, to Poland's 1,000th anniversary of Christianity, was extended when the cardinal and Polish bishops were in Rome for the Vatican council.

When it was printed here, it touched off a furious controversy and the bishops were accused of meddling in politics and being too apologetic to Germany.

Axe-Murderer's Toll Now Six

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 13-year-old girl died Sunday of severe injuries inflicted nine days earlier when five members of her family were slain.

The condition of Marianne Kosberg had grown steadily worse despite surgery.

Her parents, Osborne and Dorothy Kosberg, and three other children were slain in their beds by a double-bitted axe.

SENATOR?

Prime Minister Pearson said Monday he will meet former agriculture minister Harry Hayes later in the day but "I won't attach any particular significance to this."

He was asked at a press conference whether he plans to fill Senate vacancies, particularly from Western Canada and he said he has been giving the matter some thought.

Anger Abounds Over 'Peace Try'

FATHER DOESN'T KNOW BEST; NOW HE'S IN DOUBLE TROUBLE

TEHRAN (AP)—A father of six sets of twins claimed his wife was dead so that he would get the "largest family" prize, awarded on Mother's Day in Iran.

But, the Tehran newspaper Kayhan reported Sunday, the mother is still alive. She was divorced by her husband 16 years ago for producing too many twins, the paper said. He didn't get the prize.

The mother, Fatima Mohebbi, told the paper her twin sister has had two sets of twins. In addition, her brother's wife had two sets of twins in four years of marriage.

The newspaper report said two of Fatima's brothers are still single "because they are afraid of having too many twins."

The largest family prize went to a farmer and his wife with 18 children, aged three to 27.

UN Force Paid Despite Soviets

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The United Nations budgetary committee approved over Soviet bloc opposition today a resolution to appropriate $33,900,000 to finance the Middle East Emergency Force through 1966.

The committee approved the proposal by a 38-to-14 vote, with 37 countries abstaining, including the United States and France.

The Soviet bloc countries voted against the resolution, while Britain and Yugoslavia joined Canada and the seven co-sponsoring nations in supporting the proposal.

The resolution calls on the developed countries to be assessed greater portions to make up the amount which the Soviet bloc countries refuse to pay for the peacekeeping operations on the Gaza Strip.

There are about 850 Canadians in the 4,578-member emergency force. Other countries contributing to the force are Yugoslavia, India, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Brazil.

U.S. representative Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen told the committee the U.S. could not support the resolution since Communist Arab Republic.

Just A Few More Busy Days Then They Can Stretch Out

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr., who sailed far enough during their two weeks in space to make 10 round trips to the moon, begin three days of medical checks here today to help determine what physical rigors space travel has on man.

People who talked with the astronauts said their main complaint about the flight was the confinement — they couldn't stretch out.

They co-piloted two small planes Thursday from the prime recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp, to Bermuda.

On the way, sources said, they tried to fly their two aircraft in formation and noted it was much easier to pilot two Gemini spacecraft in formation, even though the spacecrafts were speeding at 17,500 miles an hour.

Navy Capt. Schirra and Air Force Maj. Stafford flew to Houston Sunday afternoon, after a brief reunion with Borman and Lovell.

Borman and Schirra had a well publicized bet over which spacecraft would land closest to its target, the Wasp. Officials said Schirra acknowledged that Borman got slightly closer, but blamed it on an instrument in the Gemini 6 capsule which was slightly off.

Astronaut Donald K. Slayton, director of the Gemini 7 crew, said the bet was called off.

SUPPORT NOT SO MASSIVE De Gaulle In Luck For Seven Years

PARIS (CP)—President Charles de Gaulle, 75, was given another seven years Sunday to guide the affairs of France.

With decades of military and political life behind him, the wartime Free French leader received a mandate from the voters to exercise until 1972, if he wants to, the enormous powers of the French presidency.

Re-elected on the second ballot, de Gaulle can turn his attention now to the Common Market, relations with Western Europe, the United States, China and the Soviet bloc. France's defensive alliances and a backing of domestic needs.

De Gaulle got roughly 55 per cent of the valid votes cast Sunday, a good bit short of the

Hanoi, Rome And Washington Fill The Air With Denials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson administration found itself caught up today in a stormy dispute over its publication of correspondence reporting and probing a conditional peace offer from North Viet Nam.

Publication came after the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported Friday a new peace offer from Hanoi had been rejected by the United States. The state department said the United States had, in fact, requested clarification of the offer.

Saturday Hanoi denied any peace feeler had been sent. But Dr. Giorgio La Pira, former mayor of Florence who was one of the principal intermediaries in the affair, insisted the offer had been made.

La Pira met President Ho Chi Minh in North Viet Nam in Hanoi Nov. 11 and passed on the Vietnamese views to Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani, the United Nations General Assembly president. Fanfani reported La Pira's message in a letter to President Johnson Nov. 20.

La Pira's colleague at the Hanoi talks, Prof. Mario Primicerio, accused State Secretary Dean Rusk of sabotaging the bid "by disclosing in advance what had been done."

Later Primicerio denied having said this, but the journalist who interviewed him said the quote was correct.

State department officials called

La Pira's charge outrageous. Arthur Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said Sunday on ABC's Issues and Answers the administration would have "preferred to carry on this discussion in privacy" but was faced with a "crisis of confidence" with the public over the credibility of its peace policy.

North Viet Nam itself denounced the whole thing Saturday as a hoax—a charge echoed Sunday by the Chinese.

Diplomatic authorities said privately the Hanoi government might have considered its denial necessary to preserve its position with China, which is regarded here as vehemently opposed to peace in Viet Nam. But officials said it was equally possible North Viet Nam's leaders aren't ready to negotiate yet on any terms other than their own.

NOT REJECTED

When the sequence of events became public, U.S. officials went to great efforts to emphasize that the apparent peace feeler had not been rejected as reported by The Post-Dispatch.

But the next day, The Post-Dispatch quoted "well-placed diplomats" at the United Nations as saying U.S. bombing last Wednesday of an electrical power plant near the North Viet-nam port of Haiphong constituted a clear answer to the peace offer and this was realized by Johnson.

Treat Prisoners Humanely, South Vietnamese Ordered

SAIGON (AP)—After many complaints that its forces were mistreating prisoners, the South Vietnamese government has pledged to give humane treatment to Communist captives.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government, announced Sunday that it was inviting international Red Cross officials to inspect prison camp conditions. The invitation was in response to a Red Cross request last July to both South Vietnamese and U.S. officials for treatment of prisoners in accord with the Geneva conventions.

Many observers have come back from battle areas with reports of brutality by South Vietnamese soldiers against their Viet Cong captives.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, recently issued orders to all his men to prevent mistreatment of prisoners in U.S. hands. U.S. officials said similar directives in the Vietnamese language have been distributed on cards by South Vietnamese commanders to their troops.

The foreign ministry also announced some Communist prisoners would be freed and given the option of returning to North Viet Nam or staying in the south. It did not specify the number to be released.

Italians Order New Dragnet For Mafia Most-Wanted

PALERMO (AP)—Italian authorities have issued arrest warrants against five Italian-Americans—including the missing Giuseppe (Joe Bonanno) Bonanno and two Detroit area men—on charges of association to commit crime.

The warrants signed by Public Prosecutor Pietro Scaglione Sunday followed those of last summer against 16 persons held or sought in an investigation of links between the Sicilian Mafia and the American Cosa Nostra underworld organization.

The latest arrest orders named Bonanno and Cammillo Galante, alias Carmine Galante, both of New York; John Pizola of the Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Raffaele Quarassano, alias James Quallone, of Grosse Pointe, and Giovanni Bonventre of Castellammare del Golfo, Sicily.

MEMBER JAILED

Police said they seized Bonventre during Saturday night at Castellammare. They described him as having been a resident of New York City until 1960, when he moved to Italy and took Italian citizenship. He was jailed.

Although downcast after coming close to victory, Mitterrand applauded the left's unity behind him.

A member of a Socialist splinter party who had held a dozen cabinet posts during the Fourth Republic, Mitterrand started his campaign alone. He soon had both Socialists and Communists behind him. For the second ballot, he had tried to rally the anti-de Gaulle vote, and even managed to get extreme right-wing support, but the tide wasn't strong enough.

With only a few overseas polls still to report, election officials said more than 24,000,000 of the 24,556,708 eligible voters went to the polls. Some 12,868,001 supported de Gaulle and 10,586,150 Mitterrand. There were nearly 200,000 spoiled ballots.

On the first vote Dec. 5, with an absolute majority needed for election, de Gaulle got less than 45 per cent of the vote, while Mitterrand drew 32 per cent. Four other candidates who split the rest and were eliminated directed their supporters to oppose de Gaulle but only about half obeyed. Support from the Communist party made Mitterrand's candidacy suspect to many voters who had opposed de Gaulle in the first round.

Scrooge Himself Suspected On Stock Exchange Action

By PHIL FORBES-SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It was as if Scrooge himself gained control of the Canadian stock market this week.

While many employees received extra pay for Christmas, investors across Canada were hard pressed to find any bonuses on their stock exchanges.

Price changes were frequently balanced between advances and declines which resulted in only narrow changes on the Toronto index.

Gold was the exception and they dropped 3.61 on index to 153.75 with Campbell Red Lake off 1% to 19% and Dome 4% to 28.

The main industrial list was slightly weaker with Massey-Ferguson piling the group. The company announced Wednesday that 1965 earnings were 2.68 a common share compared with last year's 3.04 a share and the stock fell 2% to 32%.

CPR DECLINES
CPR was down 2% to 65%, Union Carbide 1% to 27 and Dominion Stores 1% to 23%.

Banks also contributed to this week's losses and Nova Scotia dropped 1% to 71, Royal 4% to 104, Imperial - Commerce and Toronto-Dominion 4% each. Montreal added 4% to 80%.

When she completes her training this month, Louise will return to Vernon for the Christmas holiday, before going to the United States as an airline stewardess.

Final Details About Voting In Vernon School District

A total of 3,927 people voted in School District No. 23, Dec. 11, representing 32.5 per cent of the 12,000 eligible.

Referendum No. eight had 2,810 people voting yes and 1,021 voting no. There were 96 spoiled ballots. This made a percentage of 73.3 in favor of the referendum for school construction.

Referendum No. nine had a total of 1,998 voting yes and 1,808 voting no. There were 154 spoiled ballots. A 69 per cent majority was required and the referendum was defeated having 32.5. The money was for kindergarten construction.

Fred Macklin, returning officer and secretary-treasurer of the school board, said despite the fact there were more names on the voters list there was a 10 per cent drop this year in the number voting "yes".

"There were more votes, but less voting yes," he said.

VERY STRANGE
"People handled their ballots for referendum No. nine very strangely," he said. "Some crumpled them on the floor, others left them untouched in the booths."

"I presume these were no votes, but why they didn't mark the ballots I don't know. We have to account for them all, 2.73 and it meant a lot of work trying to locate them. Some we didn't find and can only guess 8% people took them home."

DREAMING OF WHITE CHRISTMAS? - NOT VERY LIKELY THIS YEAR

A White Christmas may be non-existent in Kelowna this year—for the first time in two years.

With just five days till Christmas day, mild temperatures have threatened any last minute aspirations for the white flakes to fall.

It was back in 1962, when the Christmas day thermometer reached a high of 50, that Kelowna last spent Christmas without a trace of snow, despite a total downfall of 23.5 inches during the month.

The following year, Kelownians shivered in -1 temperatures on Christmas day, but again almost without snow. It took a trace of snow on the night of the 25th to bring Kelowna a White Christmas.

For 1963 the prospects of a truly White Christmas remain doubtful.

Westbank Man In Aid Program

Richard Stewart, Jr., of Westbank, was named to the advisory committee of the federal-provincial tree fruit and grape assistance program.

The program is to cover damage to Valley agriculture during last winter's cold snap.

Other members of the grape assistance program are A. S. Bhola, Penikese, and B. H. Roberts, Victoria.

Serving on the tree fruit assistance program are J. Y. Toogood, Summerland, A. R. Garrish, Oliver; J. B. Kidd, Vernon; and H. J. Barkwell, Summerland. One member from the distribution trade is to be named.

The appointments were announced today by Frank Richter, minister of agriculture.

The advisory committee will review administrative details and make recommendations as the program progresses.

They will prepare an information pamphlet as a guide for growers on how best to use the grants for rehabilitating operations both in cultural practices and long term variety choice.

FIRST PAYMENT

As soon as claims are received and processed, an initial payment cheque will be issued from Victoria. The initial payment will be followed by one or more payments, depending on the individual situation.

Any grower who has not received a claim application from his grower association may obtain a copy from the nearest provincial department of agriculture office.

F. E. (Ted) Atkinson, Summerland, will act as administrator for the joint program.

Male Drivers Are Culprits, Says U.S. Highway Survey

A back seat driver may not be a bad thing after all.

The B.C. Automobile Association claims chances of being involved in a single-car highway mishap are about two-and-one-half times greater if you are driving alone.

The association also appears to have a poor opinion of women drivers.

Kelowna RCMP have said they are as good, if not better than men.

"Faulty driving, emergency situations and distractions within the car were the main causes of single-car accidents involving women," the association said.

Men are the speed demons, the drinkers and the sleepy-heads according to their findings, based on a survey in June and September of 2,500 single-car accidents. The survey was made by the U.S. Highway Research Board.

The 15-21 age group was the most dangerous category for single-car accidents. Middle-age was the least dangerous.

Accidents were more frequent during the 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. period, with an especially high incidence at 3 a.m. and 6 a.m.

Faulty driving caused 25 per cent of the accidents; excessive speed 34 per cent; drinking or drugs 14 and mechanical failure 10 per cent.

One half of fatal accidents of all types were accidents involving just one automobile.

Much Mail Poorly Addressed Says Kelowna Postmaster

Are you sure the address you put on your Christmas cards was complete and correct? Kelowna Postmaster James Burgess says there is a chance it isn't.

Mr. Burgess said the postal workers are being plagued with many letters and parcels which have either incomplete or insufficient addresses on them, which causes them no end of trouble.

He said right now they have one staff member who spends four hours each day, simply sorting letters which cannot be delivered.

Many of the pieces of mail do not have rural route numbers, street addresses, or cities marked on them.

"When you address your mail," he urged, "please make sure everything is correct. Try to write legibly, and double check the address."

"When we get letters which are unsealed and bear only a three-cent stamp, we do not bother trying to locate the receiver if the address is incorrect. We simply send them to the undeliverable mail office."

If the mail bears a five-cent stamp, and is sealed, we take the time to consult a directory, and make an attempt to get the mail through."

The postmaster said the rate of undeliverable mail is not up over last year, but even at that, there is quite a load.

"If you really want the letters and parcels to be delivered," he said, "then take the time to ensure the correct mailing address."

KELOWNA HONORS IN CONTEST

Patricia Gerlach, Lakeshore Road, won third prize in the Kelowna secondary school poster contest. Patricia, 15, a Grade X student at the Kelowna secondary school, drew the poster last March and entered it through the school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gerlach of Okanagan Mission. Her poster is being displayed by Sven Buemann, junior forest warden, at the Western Forestry Conference in Vancouver recently.

Christmas Thieves About Lock Up, Police Warn

The Kelowna detachment of the RCMP issued a warning to Christmas shoppers in Kelowna today, in an attempt to curb thefts of articles from cars.

Sgt. Russell Bakewell said with the Christmas season here, there are certain individuals in the city who are on the alert for valuables left in cars, in order to steal them.

He said while it is better to lock a car than to leave it open, even this is sometimes a futile gesture.

"It is child's play," he said, "for a person with any experience at all to open a locked car. In many cases, the thief forces the small vent window in the front door, and reaches in and grabs the door handle."

The officer said the best way to stop the stealing was to remove the temptation.

DON'T TEMPT HIM

"A thief is not going to enter a car on the chance that he might find something," he said. "The reason they do it is because they see something of value inside the vehicle. They will go for parcels, purses, and any other objects which might be of value."

He said to keep from putting parcels in the car, and to lock them in the trunk, as they had heavy locks on them and are difficult to open.

"Persons buying liquor should be extra careful," he said, "as the kind of person that will take something from a car is generally a user of alcoholic beverages. They jump at the chance to get a free bottle."

But, for Mrs. W. Malcolm of Vernon, the warning comes too late. She left her purse in the car and locked the doors, but a thief was not to be stopped.

Someone forced the vent window of the car and removed the purse, which contained $130. Sgt. Bakewell said the case is under investigation, but as yet no clues have been found.

Schools Closing Wednesday - To Re-open In New Year

Elementary and secondary school corridors will soon be empty and silent as teachers and students enjoy their annual Christmas holidays.

In School District No. 23, school will close Dec. 22 and re-open Jan. 3 for both the elementary and secondary grades.

A few of the out-of-town teachers have been given a few extra days leave without pay to enable them to reach home in time for Christmas.

Immaculate high school will close and open on the same dates as the public schools.

The B.C. Vocational school in Kelowna will close Dec. 23 at 4 p.m. and re-open at 8:30 a.m. on Jan. 3.

The staff will be on duty throughout the holidays except for the legal days off, Dec. 23, 24, 27, 31 and Jan. 1, 2.

Roy Brown, principal, said the staff is busy during the time the students are away, planning lessons and marking tests.

Fred Marklin, secretary-treasurer of the school board said the office staff, custodians and repair and maintenance crews will be off from Wed., Dec. 22 to Wed., Dec. 29.

Schools will be washed, polished and made ready for the new term by the repair and maintenance men Dec. 29, 30 and 31.

Another Load Of Cattle Due In Valley At Weekend

Okanagan dairy farmers are preparing to receive a second truck load of Holstein dairy calves during the weekend. One week ago 18 grade heifers were brought in and distributed to Okanagan producers.

These animals are selected by Frank Clark, livestock specialist, at New Westminster, and are all from high producing dams.

District agriculturalists, Jim Ryder of Vernon, Don Hurlotte of Salmon Arm and Murray Soder of Kamloops, have obtained production records on each animal.

Many of these calves are the progeny of dams producing 600 lbs. and 700 lbs. of butterfat and a total production of 15,000 lbs. of milk per year.

This program is looked on by dairymen as an excellent way to improve the livestock of the area and at the same time, build up the production of milk to take care of the ever increasing demand for Okanagan dairy products. This program will continue through the winter months and it is expected that between 200 and 300 animals will be added to Okanagan herds before the beginning of spring.

Transportation is supplied at a nominal cost for those who do not wish to go down and pick up their own.

Buses And Airline 'Jam-Packed' Now

Kelowna residents wishing to travel east for Christmas would find it extremely difficult to get reservations at the last minute, officials said today.

Accommodations by plane and train were termed "jam-packed."

People travelling any great distance have had their reservations in for months, one man said.

Airline officials said despite extra flights in and out of Kelowna beginning Dec. 22, bookings were just about completed.

Travelers had to change from a DC-3 with a seating capacity of 28, to a DC-4 with an 82 capacity on some days last week," an airline spokesman in Kelowna said.

EXTRA LOAD

This is the first year Kelowna airport has had equipment to permit after-dark flights and the new installations have resulted in increased flights in and out of our city.

"We cannot compare this year's traffic with last year, because flights are almost double, but I would say traffic is three times heavier," a spokesman said.

Relatives and friends heading west for Christmas by rail have a busier trip from Salmon Arm or Kamloops with some arrivals facing a delay of several hours between buses. Most arrivals will be met by relatives with private cars used for the final mileage.

The Greyhound Bus depot said traffic was increasing, but they do not anticipate any real rush before the middle of the week.

"There are a lot of young students booking passage to do exist on others."

Fifth Practical Nurse Class To Finish At Vocational School

The fifth class of practical nurses will graduate from the Kelowna Vocational School in Kelowna Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.

The 12 students are from various parts of B.C. and one from Saskatchewan. Instructor is Mrs. Marion Atkins.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Isabel Cross, assistant director of nursing at the Penikese Hospital.

Also attending the ceremony will be Roy Brown, principal, and friends and relatives of the graduates and the two new nursing instructors, Margaret Nelson and Mrs. Norma Keir.

The school has had 59 graduates, including the 12 in the fifth class.

FOUR MONTHS

The students have taken four months of theory in the classroom and eight months of practical training in the Kelowna General Hospital. They began Jan. 3, 1963.

In the medical, surgical and pediatric wards they have almost complete care of the patients. They do not administer medicines or do surgical treatments.

They make beds, bathe and feed patients, assist with walking and breathing exercises, do surgical prep, apply dressings and bandages.

In maternity, they observe a normal delivery, assist in the nursery they bathe and feed the babies. They also spend some time with the physiotherapist.

Mrs. Atkins said the students are planning on spending the holidays at home before starting work in hospitals in the province.

Graduating are Mrs. Shirley Alice Chapman, 2116 McBride St., Valarie Susie Mann, 558 Coronation Ave., both of Kelowna; Mrs. Joan Madarash, DeLore Catherine Merton, of Rutland.

Also Carol Ann Clifford, R.R. 1, Summerland, Kathryn-Anne Harwood, Vernon, Lisa Vivian King, Golden; Dolores Mary Anne Mulligan, Bordenburg, Sask.; Gail Ann Pyper, Armstrong; Nellie Stewart, Douglas Lake; Janice Kathleen Sawetzky, Salmon Arm, and Jeanne Lenora Wyper, Okanagan Mission.

Foresters Play Santa

The Canadian Order of Foresters distributed hampers and toys to 12 needy families in the Kelowna, Rutland and Winfield areas Saturday.

The annual project is undertaken by members of the Court Lady Capri and Court Ogegoque. The hampers contained hams, groceries and fruit. Toys were given by the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade.

Funds for the hampers are raised from various projects held during the year including rummage sales. Names of needy families are obtained from the Salvation Army.

Sunday the Canadian Order of Foresters held its annual Christmas party with 100 children of members attending.

Santa Claus distributed gifts and a film was shown. Carol singing was held and a lunch served.

Car Flips Over Youth Not Hurt

A Kelowna juvenile escaped injury at 12:00 a.m. Sunday, when he entered a curve in city park, and rolled his small compact car.

Police said the car was damaged to the extent of $400, and could be classified as demolished. The youth was charged with driving without due care and attention.

A collision at the corner of Richter Street and Bernard Avenue at 6:30 p.m. Saturday resulted in $200 damage.

RCMP said drivers involved were Mrs. Theresa Kitchener of Rutland, and Peter Parry, of Surrey.

One person was injured and a new car was demolished at 6:45 p.m. Saturday, when a Manitoba man failed to negotiate the corner entering Westbank, and rolled his car.

Police said Allan John Hyra, of Nepeawa, Man., was arrested and charged with driving without due care and attention.

A passenger received injuries to the knees and was taken to hospital. The car was damaged to the extent of $4,500.

Retail Merchants Suggest Hours For Holiday Trade

The Kelowna Retail Merchants Association has suggested hours for the closing of Kelowna stores during the remainder of the festive season.

Edward Sinclair, president of the association, said recently most of the stores will be closed on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, and on Jan. 1, 2 and 3.

"This is not necessarily a rule among the stores," he said, "but is something that has been done traditionally. They will probably close on Monday, because having day falls on Sunday this year."

He said as far as the closing on Jan. 3 is concerned, this is a holiday which is observed mainly in Kelowna.

"It is a tradition of the city to close on Little Boon Day," he said, "and I see no reason why it will not be done this year."

The Kelowna Fire Brigade was kept busy yesterday and today, with three fire calls.

A representative of the department said there were two calls to the city dump on Sunday, one being at 12:30 a.m. and the other at 1:20 p.m.

Both calls were to extinguish burning rubbish, and no damage was reported.

A call to 1403 Bertram street was made today, to extinguish a chimney fire. The fire was slight, and no damage was reported.

Three men appeared before Magistrate D. M. White Saturday, to answer to charges against them.

Bernard George Lemky, Rutland pleaded not guilty to a charge of impaired driving, and was remanded to Jan. 7.

Francis Phillip, Westbank pleaded guilty to a charge of being caught in possession of liquor, and was fined $100 and costs or two months imprisonment in default of payment.

Gerald H. Brady, Mole Road, did not enter a plea on a charge of impaired driving, and was remanded to Tuesday for trial.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING

With BETHEL STEELE

Early this fall, after Ron Irwin had retired from active service on the executive of the Kelowna Little Theatre, I met him on the post office steps and remarked that he was going to miss KLT as much as it missed him and why had he made such a drastic break after all these years. His reply "Oh just a little rest."

KLT certainly will miss Ron Irwin. If he hadn't taken that "little" rest he would have been at the lighting console for Aladdin the day he took his "biggest" rest.

He "lit" two Christmas shows for KLT, the first under Gloria Peyton for Cinderella and last year's Alice for Paddy Malin. And then there were all the other shows he "did" back through the years, good ones and poor ones; smash hits and failures.

He was always there when I went backstage, and many times he found it necessary to put me in my place because good stage managers can't tolerate people chattering up their stage.

More than anything else he was "Mr. Lighting" for all of Kelowna. It was he who put up with "nothing" and gave us stage productions glowing with light. He dreamed for years about proper facilities, and that his new console was his pride and joy.

Mr. Irwin did so want good lighting for the "New Theatre". It must have been a blow to him that financial corners had to be cut in the beginning.

When I went backstage Saturday night for the final act of Aladdin and was given the sad news, he seemed to me to be there working the console. I know that was where he would rather be than anywhere else.

Mr. Irwin "light" was his part of the wonder of the creative act. He played it just as a musician uses his instrument or the writer words. He was sincere in everything he did, it was the play that mattered—nothing else. As Miss Lloyd stated, and who should know better than she, "he was always there when we needed him... we could always depend on him... he was kind and he was gentle and he encouraged us in what we were trying to do for this man's being, since a love of beauty stamps a person with an essence which just cannot be hidden. He was in his orchard when he left us. Perhaps he was looking for a sunset."

Hemlines Still Going Up; Astronaut Style Coming?

It may be the year of the Dragon according to the Chinese calendar but with hemlines already at their highest point in history and still climbing it may become known in the fashion world at least as the Year of the Leg.

The skirt length endorsed by most manufacturers barely half, if not all, of the knee. There are even some thigh-high dresses which, hopefully, will land only on females of tender age and equally tender dimensions. But still, we expect middle-aged women with mid-thigh hems on the street any day. After all they do wear slacks and shorts regardless of age, shape or size.

The hem has jumped higher in England than in Canada, thus far. It is no uncommon sight in London to see skirts with the hem four or five inches above the knee.

Hemlines have had their ups and downs ever since fashion began, but they did not go off the ground until after World War I. The recent fuss over topsless bathing suits was nothing compared to the storm that was set off when women appeared on the street in skirts that reached a few inches above the knee.

The schoolboy silhouette of the mid-Twenties really brought legs into the open. For the first time, it became impossible for a woman to sit down without showing her knees. Flesh colored hosiery was also making news. Before 1924, women wore black or other dark colored stockings.

During the revival of femininity in the Thirties, curves were back, the waistline returned to its normal position, and hemlines dropped to mid-calf or lower and stayed down until the end of the decade when they slowly rose again.

By 1940, when nylon stockings first went on sale, skirts were as high as 15 inches from the floor and moved higher during World War II, although they never fully uncovered the knee.

Dior's New Look rocked the fashion world in 1947, outmoding every dress in every closet in a single stroke. Another innovation that year was the 15-denier nylon. Although the skirts left little more than the ankle showing, at least what did show could be clad in the sheerest stockings women had ever known. Until then, nylons were made only in 30 and 40 denier weights.

In the last 15 years, skirts have gone in just one direction—up. And, happily enough, there is now a new kind of nylon to help women take the new above-the-knee clothes in their stride. It is said the new nylon "flatters the leg as make-up flatters the face." This is because they shape themselves to the leg smoothly and remain wrinkle-free even at traditional trouble spots such as ankle, calf and knee.

This may be so, and if so, we'll certainly go along with them if they help to eliminate those damnable patterned stockings that some women are wearing. Fortunately they have not caught on too well, but never have we seen a leg improved by those stockings.

Quite the contrary. And it is rather sad that too often one sees them on legs which should never, never, never wear them. They make big legs look bigger. They accentuate the defects, when the objective should be to minimize those defects. Even on a pair of perfect legs, they add nothing. Perhaps legs can, and should be allowed to, stand on their own two feet.

Hemlines are still on the upward trend. Just how far, one wonders, will—or can—they go? If this year is the "Astronaut Year" with four or five inches of skirt? Well, why not?

Lots To Celebrate

(Vernon News)

Whatever other records British Columbia has established among the provinces of Canada, there isn't much doubt it stands pre-eminent in its celebration of Centennials. Nowhere, probably, is Centennial celebration so well done.

Back in 1958 everybody grew beards, dragged out their old costumes, burned bonds and generally had a good time for themselves in honor of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the British Colony on the Lower Mainland.

Next year we're going to celebrate the 1966 Centennial, marking the Union of the Crown Colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia. This Centennial neatly up-stages the big Canadian Centennial of 1967, which celebrates the 100th anniversary of Canadian Confederation.

That makes three Centennials in nine years, a record not likely to be equalled elsewhere.

But that's not all.

The year 1971 will mark the 100th anniversary of British Columbia's joining Confederation, and that surely, should be worth a Centennial celebration.

And if Premier Bennett is looking for dates to celebrate, how about the 200th anniversary of the Spanish discovery of the B.C. Coast in 1774, Captain Cook's landing at Nootka in 1778 and the first settlement there in 1787?

In fact just about any date suffices for a celebration, if you really want one. And although the proliferation of Centennials may have its humorous side, perhaps it's not such a bad idea to celebrate something once in a while.

With all these dates to celebrate, there is one which will certainly not be left pass by the present provincial government. And that's 1972.

The occasion? Why the 20th anniversary of Premier Bennett's ascension to power, in 1952.

In Passing

To live a long time would be far more desirable if one didn't age in the process.

It seems all possible reasons and excuses are being advanced as to why certain people ignore customs and break laws except to point out that they're as mean as (deleted).

The typical baby sitter enjoys a considerable fringe benefit when the refrigerator is well-stocked.

Old Sorthead just dropped in and growled, "The main trouble with the world is that there are more than half as many morons in it as there are people."

"The moon is the daughter of the earth, and it took its mother 500 years to give birth to it," says an astronomer. This probably set an all-time record for time spent in labor.

THESE THINGS HAVE A HABIT OF GROWING

Americans Far Hairier Now And Clean Crew Cut Passes

NEW YORK (AP)—After ages of close-cropped conformity, those male Americans who have any hair let their hair down. Down over their ears. Over the forehead. Over the neck. And, among your shavers, over their parents' dead bodies. Name the Beatles. Most barbers do. "The crew cut," said one, "is dead." Hair is everywhere. Sprouting as lavishly as the male locks is a brand new branch of high fashion dedicated to cultivating the top and sides of the masculine head. Barbers are no longer barbers. They are hair stylists. Hair is not cut. It is styled, with a straight razor, hair spray, shampoo and dryer. A shave and a haircut are not two bits. To get the right set and trim and wave can take over an hour and $30.

To help prepare barbers for the new upheaval in fashion the U.S. government has launched a $250,000 training program in co-operation with the barber's union to acquaint its members with techniques of hair styling. While the Beatles have threatened to turn male teen-agers into a generation of sheepdogs, barbers and customers alike have combined television, the comics and even history books to bring lustre and beauty to the bangs.

NAME STYLES

Perry Como, an ex-barber, has a hair style named for him. So does Prince Valiant of the fables. So does Julius Caesar.

There's the John John, named and patterned after John F. Kennedy Jr., and the Princeton (a crew cut gone to seed), the Class President (a dignified compromise between rampant foliage and a brush cut), the Clubman (touches the ears but not extremely long), the Peter Gunn and the Man From U.N.C.L.E., both inspired by their televised namesakes.

In San Francisco barbers have trimmed a nice line with the Convertible, which is shaggy enough for the electric guitar crowd but just short enough to allow the wearer into schools. Most of these are specialties of the beardless set and have many U.S. barbers tearing their own hair.

Long hair hurts business, said a Boston barber. "They decide to go with long hair and they stay that way for a week for a haircut."

"Let's face it," said a Los Angeles barber. "I'm a barber. I get paid to cut hair. I don't have to like what I'm cutting, but as long as they pay, there's no problem. But I do get the urge every time some young, nice-looking kid with a mop all down in my chair to shove him bald. Just once."

Says Jay Sebring, a Los Angeles hair stylist to whom such as Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley entrust their locks: "I don't see any end to the long-hair trend. After all, it's very popular with the teen-agers and 50 per cent of our population will be teen-agers by 1970."

PRICES VARY

Price isn't the reason, even though haircuts are up to as much as $2.25 (no tip) in Cleveland and Chicago. (If you happen to be in the neighborhood of Vidalia, Ga., drop in. Haircuts are $1.)

It seems the longer the hair, the longer the treatment. "Men are more conscious, more vain about their hair than they ever have been," said Johnny Russo, owner of the Esquire Salon for men in suburban Baltimore. "They are finding out their hair can be styled—if they have any to start with."

Waldo Roedel (Mr. Waldo to his clientele)—runs a hair salon for men in suburban Baltimore, by appointment only. The waiting room has sofas, a coffee table and paintings on the wall. The treatment includes vibrators, a heating cap and dryers and takes 1½ hours.

OTTAWA REPORT

Martin Hands Out Full Treatment

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

There's a tradition in the press gallery that demands instant news from meetings of the cabinet. Since time immemorial, journalists have laid in wait for the prime minister and other ministers as they emerge from the council chamber. With the post-war growth of the press gallery from 65 to 127 members, overcrowding of the exit has become complete blockage.

Recently Prime Minister Pearson reacted testily against this running the gauntlet, and set up a new system: after each cabinet meeting either he or a civil service aide will greet the press in a calm and orderly press conference.

The first briefing by an aide led to justified protests; not having been at the cabinet meeting, he could neither say what had happened nor answer questions. So, last week acting Prime Minister Paul Martin, in his most suave manner, told us he would correct things. From monoglossical with little, we switched abruptly to oral perambulations by Paul. He gave us the full treatment, fifty-five minutes of trivia. Pauline publicity and news wrapped in verbiage.

Paul Martin of course is a real trouper. He began by announcing a payment of $2 per ton on the sugar beet crop. "This will be of great interest to the constituents of Essex East," beamed the old pro, who of course is elected to parliament by those very constituents.

Then he announced two 34-day holiday weekends for civil servants. Canadian sanctions against Rhodesia and pause. "I have been in cabinet all day," he said in a weary voice—it was after 5 p.m. when the news hour meeting ended—but cabinet apparently had decided nothing else.

So we then heard at length about Paul's forthcoming visit to London—to consult with government leaders about Rhodesia—and to Paris—where, this being Canada's turn, he will preside at the NATO ministerial council meeting.

Far more interesting than what Paul said was his manner of saying it, and his reaction to his audience. There were perhaps 40 journalists and half as many of Paul's aides all most filling the square panelled room. There were two television cameras and TV cooks, or lights, violently roasting an exhausted but patient and pinched Paul. He was menaced throughout most of the conference by two still camera artists who, holding flash-guns at the ready in front of his eyes, snapped him from every conceivable angle except feet-first—and incidentally blocked the audience's view. One TV operator shuffled around on the wall-to-wall broadloom in a remarkable pair of soft-shoes, made of sealskin.

Canada's acting prime minister was thrown one ugly curve ball when he was asked if he agreed with the widespread criticism that Canada is suffering in these difficult days from non-government, from a vacuum at the top. Paul no doubt would have liked to reply honestly that, as acting prime minister, he is at least as capable as the vacationing boss—and if he had held the job for the past two years Canada and the Liberal government would have had a smoother ride. Instead he paid a pretty compliment to the only overworked minister, Mitchell Sharp, who still serves in trade and commerce and holds finance on an unsatisfactory "acting" basis. As he said, "another context, 'As hope is to rock the boat as little as possible.'"

Daily questions resolved silly answers, of which the best came when a question was prefaced: "Mr. Martin, in your speech at Detroit last night you said..." To which he snarled, "I didn't say that; the newspapers did."

He fiddled neatly one tough political question by smoothly replying, as to the questioner: "That reminds me, I've brought a box of cigars for you." And he explained to the recipient that some kind diplomat had presented him this box "of a brand I do not smoke." They came from Sumatra—and "I thought you would prefer them to those nasty cheap cigars you always smoke." Meanwhile the tough question had been forgotten and never was answered.

LETTER TO EDITOR

"NO TANKS!"

Mr. I have just read with horrified disbelief, as item in council briefs, in which a militia commander advises city council that Kelowna has been chosen for the doubtful honor of having a Second World War Sherman tank placed in a local park.

As an ex-sergeant of the army who served six years, and was wounded in action, I vigorously protest the assumption that this is desirable, and hope many more will do the same. This ugly reminder of man's ability to slaughter man, is not needed today with the whole world on the brink of mass suicide from atom blast and fallout.

A city park is for relaxation, grass, trees and children playing. If any monument must be erected, let it be something of beauty and not some heap of discarded iron.

In the next world war a soldier will not likely be called upon to do more than the women and children of the community, perhaps less.

H.B.C. Governor Made Fast Trip

By BOB BOWMAN

In 1806 Simon Fraser made the trip down the river that now bears his name. It was one of the most dangerous journeys ever undertaken by man, but Fraser did not get all the way to the Pacific ocean. He got to what is now the village of Muskegam, from where he could see the Mountains of Vancouver Island, but the Indians there were so hostile that he dared not try to go farther.

In 1824 George Simpson, who was governor of the northern department of the Hudson's Bay Company, was asked to inspect the Columbia division. He made the trip from Hudson's Bay to Fort George on the Columbia River in 80 days, 20 days faster than it had ever been done. Among the men who accompanied him was James McMillan, an experienced factor of the company.

It was important to explore the actual mouth of the Fraser because the Hudson's Bay Company wanted to establish a base there to trade with China. It never knew when the Americans might force it to give up Fort George. McMillan volunteered to do the job, and set out with a party of 40 men, one of whom was Jean Baptiste Proveau who had been one of the canoeists on Fraser's historic trip. They worked their way up the coast, around Point Roberts, and then got to the Fraser River by paddling up small streams like the Nicomekl and Salmon River.

After camping for a night on Annacis Island, where they carved the initials H.B.C. into a large tree, they reached the mouth of the Fraser on Dec. 20. They were the first white men to do so. Captain George Vancouver had missed it. Simon Fraser had not reached it. Vancouver International Airport is now there.

Los Angeles Dog Psychologist Shapes Their Will To Respond

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A cat raced across the sidewalk in front of D'Ors Place Ygor, Barbara Singleton's platinum-blond Russian wolfhound.

Ygor started to bolt after the cat, Miss Singleton, a television model, clunked a chain in her hand and spoke:

"Come, Ygor."

Ygor halted, as if thunder-struck. "Heel," said Miss Singleton. Ygor trotted obediently to her side and they walked on.

Ygor has never been to dog-training school. But like 300 elite canines, Ygor has had psychotherapy. He was a patient of Dr. Dare Miller, who describes himself as Los Angeles' only dog psychologist.

Dr. Miller brainwashes the dogs, then shapes their will with conditioned response.

"In five minutes," said Dr. Miller, 38, "I can teach a strange dog to come to me on command."

A chain, the sort Barbara Singleton clunked to halt Ygor, does the trick. The chain is made of a special bronze-phosphorus alloy. Hanging on it is a tiny tuning fork.

White House To Lose Famous French Chef

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House is losing its French chef, Rene Veron, hired by Mrs. John F. Kennedy in 1961 to preside over the president's cuisine.

Veron is resigning as of Jan. 1 "for personal reasons," said Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Veron has done the cooking for the state dinners at which the president and his wife entertain visiting dignitaries including kings and prime ministers.

The Johnsons also have maintained their personal cook, Zephyr Wright, who has been with the family for years, to operate the special family quarters kitchen for their own needs.

The Times says Veron insisted his resignation had nothing to do with the food preferences of President Johnson and his family.

ANN LANDERS

Maybe The Monkeys Should Complain!

Dear Ann Landers: I have been a police officer for over 19 years. The problem I am writing about is one I've had to deal with every year when I've pulled Christmas duty. I am talking about the Christmas eve family fight. We get more calls from neighbors to go out and settle family fights on Christmas eve than on any other night in the year, including New Year's.

You walk into a house which is gaily decorated, the tree is aglow, beautifully wrapped gifts are under the tree, and the husband and wife are throwing things at each other. The kids are crouched in the corners scared out of their wits.

About 90 per cent of the time you are able to patch things up and nobody is arrested. But the holiday has been spoiled for everyone.

I wish parents could learn to control their drinking, their tempers and their tensions so that their children might remember Christmas as a happy time instead of a nightmare when the police had to come to break up a fight between Mom and Dad. Thank you—OFFICER CHRISTMAS BLUES.

Dear Officer: All of us are in your debt for an eloquent letter. Peace in the home and goodwill toward one another should be an integral part of family life, not only during the holiday season, but every day of the year.

Dear Ann Landers: A relative of Charles Darwin appeared on a radio program recently and revived an argument in our house that I hoped was dead. About five years ago my husband and I really went round and round about this and now he's at it again.

My husband has seeds of literature to support the theory that man descended from the monkey. He has shown me charts and pictures of skulls which describe the evolutionary periods and I must admit that some of the first men and some of the monkeys look like they are pretty close relatives.

I am a religious person, however, Ann, and my early teachings make it impossible for me to accept this Darwin stuff. I would appreciate it if you would

FIGHT RENEWED

Dear Renewed: Save your breath to cool your soup, Lady. You won't change your husband's mind. He'll just show you more charts.

The origin of man has been a favorite argument for ages and the scientific findings are all on his side. Considering what man has done to himself these last 50 years I think the monkeys have a right to complain.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 11-year-old son accidentally left his bicycle in the driveway which we share with the neighbors. Our garages are side by side in the back.

The woman next door is the world's roughest driver, as well as the meanest person alive. I am sure she ran over the kid's bike just to teach him a lesson.

Right after she did it she had the gall to drag the pieces of bike over to our house and yell up a storm that our kid almost gave her a heart attack. She said, "I thought for a minute I had hit the boy and I almost died by the wheel." Then she began to holler about irresponsible kids and terrible parents.

My husband says she should buy our boy a new bike. What does the law say?—BURNED APLENTY

Dear Burned: I'm no lawyer, but I can tell you what I say. I say your son doesn't deserve another bike until he learns to take care of one. And it's up to his parents to teach him.

COME IN AND SEE THE 1966 VAUXHALL VIVA! FROM GENERAL MOTORS

In just two short years, the Vauxhall Viva has gained immense popularity with thousands of Canadians. Maybe 1966 is the year you'll join them. Here's why:

Viva is a performer. A fifty horsepower engine, and a fully-synchronized four-speed transmission coupled with a high power-to-weight ratio give Viva carefully balanced performance. And with its exclusive Roll-Control suspension system, Viva stays flat and well-behaved on even the twistiest byways. Obviously, Viva's a car that will take the dullness out of everyday driving.

Viva is practical, too. Its purchase price is very, very low. And Viva delivers a surprising number of miles to the gallon. Interior roominess is exceptional. In fact, there's more head and legroom in the front of a Viva than in a lot of luxury sedans. There's a lot of trunk space, too. 10.76 cubic feet, in fact. And Viva's heater is especially designed to keep you warm in the coldest Canadian winter.

Viva is made by General Motors. That means it's made well. Very well. The 1966 Viva won two Gold Medals at the London Motor Show to help prove that point. But don't take anybody's word for it. Visit your Vauxhall dealer today and test-drive the little Viva. You may want to give it a gold medal for personality.

Playoff Forced After NFL Play

By JIM MACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best quarterback Baltimore Colts had going for them in their last-chance shot at the National Football League's Western Division title was John Brodie of San Francisco. Brodie, a former Canadian professional hockey player, and veteran Ed Brown, who led the Colts to a 20-10 victory over Los Angeles Rams on Sunday, were the only two quarterbacks in the division who had won a game in the playoffs.

Green Bay had a seven-point lead and the division title apparently sewn up — with less than two minutes to go. But the Colts surged back, to now the Packers and Colts will play off for the Western Division crown next Sunday at Green Bay, with the winner taking on Cleveland Browns for the league championship Jan. 7.

Brodie's third scoring pass of the day, a 27-yarder to Vern Burke with one minute, seven seconds to play, and Tommy Davis' conversion kick tied it at San Francisco. Each team led twice, with the Packers taking a 21-17 advantage in the final quarter on Jim Taylor's five-yard run and going ahead 24-17 when Don Chandler kicked a 31-yard field goal with 1:08 left. But in 41 seconds the Bears got even on Korman Alexander's kickoff return to the 20, a 15-yard penalty, four Brodie passes, and Davis' kick. The Bears' quarterback star, in his sixth NFL season, threw on 26 of 34 passes for an amazing 16.5 per cent and 285 yards, and wound up the year with 39 touchdown strikes.

EXTENDED LEAGUE RECORD
Korman Alexander's league record with his 22nd touchdown of the season and won the scoring title, but Minnesota Vikings beat the Bears 24-17. The loss left the Bears with a 3-5 won-lost record, good for third place in the Western Division.

Cleveland's eastern champion Browns rallied for a 17-14 decision over St. Louis even though they had to play the last half without Jim Brown, who got his first touchdown of the year but also got kicked out of the game for fighting.

In other NFL action Don Meredith's passing led Dallas over New York 38-36 and into the Playoff Bowl at Miami. Detroit outscored Philadelphia 13-10, giving the Lions a 4-3 record over the season. In inter-division play this season, the Washington Redskins scored three times on Pittsburgh miscues for a 35-14 romp over the Steelers.

Brodie's other scoring passes went to John Crow on a 32-yard play and to Dave Parks, for 13 yards. Boyd Dowler scored Green Bay's first touchdowns on a 43-yard pass from Bart Starr in the second quarter and Herb Adderley helped the Packers to a 14-13 lead when he tackled from 13 yards out after intercepting one of Brodie's passes in the third quarter.

Willie Wood's interception of another Brodie pass led to Chandler's field goal, which seemed to wrap it up for Green Bay, but Brodie and the Bears had more than enough time to make another comeback.

With first-stringer Johnny Unitas and second-stringer Gary Counce out of action with injuries, the Colts did the job against the Rams with Matti, normally a running back, and Brown, an 11th-hour pickup from Pittsburgh on waivers.

Baltimore also put George Hadjio on the active roster as a reserve quarterback for the Rams game. But under league rules Matti is the only Colt quarterback eligible for the playoff against Green Bay or the title game, unless they get unanimous consent from the other NFL clubs to place a second quarterback on the active list.

Matti is the son of Roland (Joe) Matti of Rockland, Ont., who played for Detroit Red Wings and Cleveland Barons after performing in junior ranks with Ottawa Shamrocks.

Joe Kapp, a 1959 graduate of the University of California and now a Canadian Football League star with British Columbia Lions, had offered to play quarterback for the Colts in the crucial game. He was turned down.

Baltimore coach Don Schula said he could not have accepted the offer of the Vancouver quarterback under any circumstances. "There's no way we could use him because he's under contract to another team," said Schula. "Even if he was a free agent we couldn't sign him, because he was drafted by another NFL team when he was at college."

But it was also of Joe to think of us." Rip Hawkins' 25-yard scoring run with an intercepted pass capped a three-touchdown rally in the final quarter that gave Minnesota the victory over the Bears. Sayers went over from the two for his touchdown and finished his brilliant rookie season with 123 points.

Vince Costello's interception set up a 24-yard touchdown pass from Frank Ryan to Tom Hutchinson with 14 minutes left, enabling the Browns to overtake the Cardinals. Larry Wilson stole three of Ryan's passes and sprinted 85 yards for a touchdown with one of the interceptions.

Brown and defensive end Joe Robb of St. Louis were ejected for fighting just before the first half ended. Before that, the great Cleveland fullback bulldozed over from the three for his first touchdown and totaled 74 yards on 13 carries. He ran off with his eighth rushing title in nine seasons with 1,544 yards.

Dallas' victory over New York left the two clubs tied for second in the East with 7-7 records, but the Cowboys beat the Giants twice and thus earned the East spot in the Playoff Bowl for division runners-up.

Meredith hit Olympic flash Bob Hayes with two scoring passes and a connected with Buddy Dalrymple for another, while rookie Robert Logan raced 80 yards, after grabbing a blocked field goal attempt, for a key Dallas touchdown.

Ex-Teammate Drives K.C. To Victory Over Broncs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I was playing his position and I wanted to play it as he would have," said Curt McClinton.

The position McClinton was playing Sunday belonged to his room-mate and team-mate with Kansas City Chiefs, Mack Hill, who died last Tuesday of complications from a knee operation.

McClinton, shifted from his normal halfback position, scored one touchdown and set up three others by grabbing five passes for 213 yards as the Chiefs outlasted Denver Broncos 45-35 in an American Football League game.

The Chiefs finished their regular season in third place in the Western Division with a 7-5 record while the Broncos were last at 4-10.

San Diego Chargers and Buffalo Bills meanwhile lined up for the championship game next Sunday, the Chargers defeating Oakland Raiders 24-14 and the Bills losing 16-12 to New York Jets.

scored his 22nd touchdown in the Bears' loss to Minnesota and won the scoring crown. There were different versions of what occurred.

Brown said, "He hit me once before (in the game) and when he did it the second time, I came back at him. He hit me on the jaw, but it was one of those quick things and we shook hands almost immediately. But the officials took it more seriously."

Robb was quoted by teammates as saying Brown threatened him before the play and came at him with elbow high and kicked him.

The Browns also played the second half without star flanker Gary Collins, who suffered bruised ribs. However, he is expected to be ready for the championship game Jan. 2.

Wonderful Willie Again Thrown By Mysterious Fainting Spell
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Willie Mays sat in a bathrobe in front of Herman Franks' fireplace and said his third collapse won't hurt his baseball playing.

Mays, 34, highest-paid player in baseball with a $105,000 salary and the National League's most valuable player, fell in a faint Saturday at an appearance promoting the U.S. Job Corps at a downtown theatre.

"Some guy told me I was out 20 or 15 minutes," said Willie. He collapsed in 1962 while sitting in a dugout. Doctors said it was indigestion.

WILLIE MAYS
... won't hurt playing
there was no damage to his nerves or anything." Mays' appearance was one stop on a tour across the United States promoting the Job Corps. Does that mean the job corps will have to find another promoter?

"That's right," said Franks. He said he intended to keep Willie at his Salt Lake City home for an indefinite test.

Canadian Wins Barrel Jumping
GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Jacques Favreau, 22-year-old salesmen from Montreal, sailed over 16 barrels for a distance of 26 feet, 7 1/2 inches Saturday and won the world barrel-jumping championship.

Defending champion Ken L. bel, 26, of Great Neck, N.Y., was second with a leap of 25-7/8. Label set the world record last January when he cleared 17 barrels and went 28-4.

Emerson Shines In Aussie Win

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia gave its Davis Cup confidence another boost Sunday when it completed a 3-1 victory over the United States in a two-man international tennis match.

The boost came mainly from Wimbledon champion Roy Emerson, who showed his best form for the first time this season when he beat up-and-coming Arthur Ashe 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Ashe had scored wins over Emerson in the state championship tournaments since the Australian season opened. But he was not up to Emerson's standard Sunday.

Record Attendance In National League
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League broke its attendance record for the fifth straight season this year as it closed in the 5,000,000 mark.

Unofficial figures for the season, which ended Sunday, show the NFL's average drew 4,000,364. Last year's official attendance was a record 4,303,049.

The official paid attendance for 1968 won't be announced until the NFL's annual meeting in February.

TEEN TALK

Students Take A Look At Education Objectives

By JILL FITZGERALD and BOOTS ELDEN

School activities at KSS are almost all during exam week. However, for those intellectually starved individuals who rise above the bourgeois masses, we offer a few humble words to stimulate your idle brains during study periods or over the impending holidays.

Let us take the famous quotation by Alexander Pope — "Education forms the common mind."

Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

The implication is that one's entire future may be affected by education or conversely the lack of it. It is natural that school as a social institution has this effect — if only as an indirect, environmental influence — because of the amount of time spent there, in a year, it is logical that those who have been educated develop very differently from those who have not. This is not to say that the uneducated are of lower potential, but that this potential has not been developed as in the case of those who have lived in a more cultured atmosphere.

"But school is damaging to a person's individuality." The conscientious objector protests. Schools are institutions with a purpose — education. In order to carry out this purpose, discipline and stability must be maintained. Here there is no place for the non-conformist or the trouble-maker. The true non-conformist, however, remains constant and true to himself at all times and such an existence would probably never appeal to him in the first place. Does this mean that a non-conformist is a person who does not go to school? Not necessarily. The definition of a non-conformist is a positive one rather than a negative one. He is a person who maintains his individual beliefs and the right to think for himself. Whether or not this conflicts with popular outlooks is inconsequential.

Education cannot help but form a common bond between men; as Pope puts it: "Education forms the common mind." Learning requires a state of open-minded receptiveness as well as a common aim to reach a common goal. While the individual may long to lash out at education regimentation which physically, mentally, and spiritually dominates the system, he often manages to remove himself from this source of frustration in order to obtain an education.

Youth goes hand in hand with inexperience, although it is completely blind to the fact, especially during the years of rebellion. As a young person reaches the age of discretion and suddenly finds himself with the ability to reason, he grasps at every original idea he stumbles into and defends it as viciously as a protective parent. It is not easy to admit that there is much to be learned from the knowledge and experience of the older generation, against which he is presently rebelling. This rebellion is a clever invention of nature's to unite mother's apron strings. By it, the young innocent leaves the nest of his own accord, rather than being thrust into the cruel reality of life unwillingly.

In our present society, we do not place as much emphasis on temperance, moderation and patience as men did in the 17th century. Nevertheless, men in any century cannot continue living with his fellow man without mastering these 3 serenities — and they must be mastered, for seldom are they inborn. Even if a student does not master the basis of education — facts and how to memorize them — or how to reason out a problem — or how to have an overall concept of an idea — he will experience if not accept these 3 qualities of mind.

Departing from the conventional practices of writing the final paragraph in the form of a summary, I leave, Dear Reader, the conclusion of my reflections to you. This article was not written to discourage drop-outs or condemn schools as dictatorial, but rather to begin to place the surface of the ideals of the institution which most people take for granted, although it can have the greatest single influence on our lives.

Well, to finish up on a lighter note. That time of year has come again. It seems only yesterday we put away our stockings for another year. The carols are now being sung, getting everyone into a jolly Christmas mood.

It is also the ending of a happy, successful year and the beginning of a new one. We will never forget the past — and yet we look forward to the coming year with enthusiasm. On behalf of all the students and teachers of KSS we want to wish all a very merry Christmas, and all the best in the New Year.

School Festival Featured Various Band Selections

Knox held its first December Festival Wednesday night. Featured were The Senior Band, Grade VIII Choir and two Drama Club Productions. The Choir under direction of Miss Judi Johnson sang a delightful number entitled "Mia Skol Dan Skol" by H. Ades. The band also under the direction of Miss Johnson played several numbers including a novelty selection ably narrated by Barb Robison and a Dixieland Concerto with soloists Barb Newton on clarinet, Garfield Marshall on trumpet, Doug Hillman on trombone, Pat Burich on string bass, Richard Enns on tuba and Lyle Johnson on drums. They all did a terrific job and we at Knox think that it won't be long before they hit the "Big Time."

Under the direction of teacher Mr. R. Logie, better known to us as playwright pen-name R. Thomas Oat, the Drama Group put on two plays. The first was "An amusing and inconsequential interlude written and devised by John Maddison Morton." It starred Matt Monismith as Mr. Cox, Gary Fehr as Mr. Box and Diana Holmes as Mrs. Bouncer.

The next play, written by the above named favorite author was "an edifying, entertaining and heartrendering theatrical which demonstrates that faith and constancy is always rewarded... or else." Audience participation was encouraged and everyone cheered the hero, Geoffrey Goodheart played by Marshall, booned the villain Kinsaid Esterhazy played by Don Raapone and applauded Widow Sweetheart played by Sue McKenzie. Blanche (a name not a reaction) was acted by Colleen Bredin, Father, the long lost sea rover, by Ralph Monismith, Amelia Truebright by Stephanie Glover, a respectable maid, Charity Place by Jackie Paine and a lovely, modest Miss Purity Sweetheart by Bette Wiens. At the Piano was Garfield Marshall and Theme was by Jane Ault.

A behind-the-scenes crew too large to be named here did a great job constructing sets, gathering props, looking after curtains, lights, costumes and doing makeup. A special thanks goes to Miss Johnson, Mr. Logie, Mrs. Ault, our principal Mr. Hewber, and our school staff, for all their work in getting our December Festival Ready.

On Friday Dec. 10 at 8:00 Knox, Foxes, put away their basketballs and attended the Christmas Dance. Immediately after the basketball game was over the Dance Committee moved in and strung the streamers and crystallized the Christmas tree with spiky decorations. At 8:00 the doors were swung open for three and a half hours of swinging music supplied by the Kelowna High Dance Band.

Mistress of Ceremonies, Sue Allan, got all those attending out on the floor especially when game time came around. Included in the program were Bingo dances, spot dances, and a few selections from a special part of the dance band.

Refreshments were served half-way through the evening. Everyone was delighted with the cream puffs and ginger ale punch that was served. But who made all this possible? It was the dance committee headed by Brian Marshall. Other committees were: decorations, Barb Robison and Barb Newton; entertainment, Sue Allan and Betty Morton; food, Kathy Earle; a dvertising, Trudy Lunenko. Great thanks are extended to these people as well as all others who helped in any way and all the gang who attended the dance to make it such a great success.

Indoor Track Meet On Tap For Wednesday At Geo. Elliot

By SHIRLEY APPLETON and LINA BECK

Christmas cheer again fills the halls of George Elliot as holidays approach. Students aren't exactly staging Christmas carols at the top of their lungs and aren't busily showering the teachers with gifts, but they are expressing genuine relief at the absence of scheduled 24-hour exams. The exams this year will be no longer than one period, which means no more last minute worrying for many senior students.

This leaves them more time to prepare for the annual fun at the Indoor Track Meet, to be held on Wednesday, December 22. The three Houses, Chilcotin, Shuswap and Tahul will contest for the cherished cup, a soup mug with the obvious misspelled title, Track Meet Cup. Good luck to all!

The last session of Parliament before Christmas recess was held on Thursday, December 9. Bernard de Wolk, Speaker of the House, was called upon several times to restore order at the very controversial Medicare Plan was debated on.

Prime Minister Philip Townsend moved that a voluntary Medicare Plan be started for the country. At this point the Prime Minister's party split, with some of the members' refusal to co-operate to any Medicare scheme. Deirdre Foster, a member of the opposition, proposed an amendment that the Plan be made compulsory. After much discussion, a vote was taken, and Prime Minister Townsend's National Conservative government fell because of the split. When Parliament reopens in January, the government will be headed by Jean Neime and her Radical Democrats.

One again we remind you of the coming Christmas pageant. Special instrumentation and a well-organized choir under the leadership of Mr. W. Epp will accompany an exceptional pantomime cast under the direction of Mr. T. Black and Mr. I. Sisset in bringing forth the story of Christmas with true spirit and beauty. Support George Elliot and the Christmas spirit by treating yourself and your family to this enjoyable evening in the George Elliot gymnasium at 8:00 p.m. on December 22. There will be no charge, but a silver collection will be taken.

With a proud home audience enthusiastically cheering them on, our Senior Boys and Girls defeated the Rutland basketball team Friday, December 10 at George Elliot. The girls took a close 20-18 victory with Heidi Westemager scoring twelve points. Then Gary Clement, with twenty-four points, led the boys to a 62-36 victory.

MR. MERCHANT In selling ARE CALLBACKS NECESSARY?

Ask any good salesman, he'll tell you according to the experts most sales are made on the 7th call.

You wouldn't hire a salesman who refused to make call backs and only worked one day a week. Would you? Of course not!

Then why pay $5.00 or more for a weekly ad when you can have a daily ad in the Courier for only $4.50 per week. That's a lot of call-backs, 30,000 to be exact!

To put it another way a weekly ad means 34,000 calls per month. A daily ad in The Courier guarantees 624,000 calls. Costs only $18.00 too!

Stories Of Naked Men At Mint Overly Exaggerated Says Chief

Employees of the Royal Canadian Mint have complained that their staff quarters are so cramped that girls frequently run into naked men going to and from the showers before and after work.

N. A. Parker, master of the mint, said today the complaints were "overly - exaggerated in many ways," and that conditions have changed for the better with establishment of a temporary branch plant for the mint in neighboring Hull, Que. The mint produces all Canadian and some foreign coins and medals.

The employees met Thursday night with members of the Civil Service Association's national executive to urge support for a new mint. The present building, high on the bank of the Ottawa River east of Parliament Hill and surrounded by a tall iron fence, was built in 1906 and expansion is restricted.

But that has been corrected with acquisition of the satellite plant in Hull, officials said. Officials said consideration has long been given to building new mint quarters but no firm decision has been taken.

Fast Train Planned For Pennsylvania Rail

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad expects to start work within a month to convert its New Brunswick-to-Trenton track for use by high-speed trains that will reach 160 miles an hour. Four cars, carrying instruments instead of passengers, are due to start making the 26-mile run in mid-1969.

Medical Prize Won For Work On Virus

FRANKFURT (AP) — Dr. Paul Ehrlich, who joined the Rockefeller Institute in New York City in 1920 when he was 40, became the first man to prove that viruses can cause the spread of malignant tumors. The Paul Ehrlich Foundation announced Friday that Dr. Rous will receive West Germany's highest medical award, the Paul Ehrlich and Ludwig Darmstaedter prize. It is worth about $12,000.

At least five persons were carried away in stretchers and taken to hospitals, but the exact number of persons hurt was not determined immediately.

THE BIDDING:
East South West North
Pass Pass 3♦ Pass
4♦

Opening lead—king of hearts. This remarkable hand occurred in the Masters Pairs played in England in 1963. It was difficult for West to realize after East had passed, that a grand slam in diamonds was unbeatable, and in the only case where East-West bought the contract, West became declarer on the bidding shown.

Despite having stopped at only five, East-West got the top score in their direction for being plus 440 points. This was because at all other tables North-South played in five or six hearts, either making the contract or going down one.

At one table the bidding followed this peculiar course:

East South West North
Pass Pass 1♦ 1NT
4♦ 4♥ 5♦ 5♥
Dble

The psychic notrump overcall proved to be very successful when South easily made five hearts doubled.

Normally this would have turned out to be a top score for North-South, but making five hearts doubled was excelled at another table by a different North-South pair who succeeded in making six hearts doubled.

This extraordinary result came about after the bidding had gone:

East South West North
Pass Pass 1♦ 2♥
4♥ 5♦ 5♥ 5♥
Dble

West was an imaginative player who thought he might become declarer at six diamonds, which he felt he could make if he could somehow or other prevent a spade lead.

Accordingly, he bid five spades over South's five diamonds.

Unfortunately, the bid boomeranged. East's trusting soul, led the ace and another spade against six hearts doubled, expecting his partner to ruff.

West didn't, and North made six hearts.

When the hand was over, West said rather heatedly to East: "What in the world are you doing, partner? Trusting my bidding?"

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Carefully planned changes in your methods could save time, money and energy now. Make no drastic alterations where things are running smoothly, however. You may come up with some unusual ideas but, before presenting them, be sure that they are workable.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, while your job and financial affairs could be lagging temporarily, within another four months you will enter an excellent period for advancing these matters. In fact, the weeks between April 15th and May 15th will be a highly profitable period for Capricornians on practically all fronts. Not only will you see a definite improvement in the aforementioned interests, but the month will also be propitious for both romance and travel. Other good periods for finances: Mid-August and late November, but do be conservative for the rest of the year and consolidate all gains you will make in October, since your next good financial "breaks" won't come until late December and the first three months of 1969.

Aside from the aforementioned April-May period, other good cycles for romance will occur in late June and late July (the latter two months especially good). Don't take mid-March, late May or October romances too seriously, however. They could prove disappointing.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the talents needed to make a successful linguist, artist or writer.

EUROPE'S LAST AFRICAN HOLDING

Portugal's African empire, more than 500 years old, is the biggest and the last of the European colonial holdings in Africa. Legally, Mozambique and Angola, 23 times the size of mother country, are overseas provinces of Portugal and everyone, black or white, is a Portuguese citizen at birth. But guerrilla strife has been raging sporadically for more than a year near the borders of Tanzania and Malawi. — CP News-map

Football Basically Same Game According To Ex-All-American

NEW YORK (AP)—The ball isn't smaller, the men are bigger, the game is basically the same, say members of the Associated Press' first all-American football team.

"A team still has to learn to tackle to be good," insists Ernie Nevers, the great Stanford University fullback. "The backs still have to cross the goal line to score."

"I would have been a flop if it hadn't been for the guys who blocked for me," adds Ed McGrath, the Galloping Ghost of Illinois. "Too many of us overlook the meat-and-potatoes players."

Andy James (welder) Oterlander of Dartmouth says there is very little new under the football sun.

Koufax Named Top Pitcher

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sandy Koufax won the National League's earned run title for a record fourth straight year and paced the circuit's pitchers in seven other categories, the official 1965 averages released recently disclose.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' Young Award as the major league's outstanding pitcher, compiled a 2.04 earned run average. He also led in games won (26), winning percentage (.763), strikeouts (382), complete games (27), innings pitched (336), most batters faced (1,297) and longest winning streak (11 games). His strikeout total set a major league mark.

Juan Marichal of San Francisco Giants was the runner-up in the earned-run competition with 2.14, followed by Vern Law of Pittsburgh Pirates at 2.16. Koufax led in 1962 with a 2.54 e.r.a., in 1963 with 1.88 and in 1964 with 1.74. He broke the league mark he shared with Grover Cleveland Alexander of Philadelphia Phillies, the leader for three straight years starting in 1915.

SET CAREER RECORDS
In addition to the strikeout mark, the Dodgers' left-hander set two major league career records. They were for most no-hit games, four, and most games with 10 or more strikeouts, 82.

Don Drysdale, the Dodgers' star right-hander, started the most games, 42, and gave up the most hits, 270. Marichal was the leader in shutouts with 10, two more than Koufax.

Chicago's Ted Abernathy appeared in the most games, 84, a major league record. Larry Jackson, another Cub pitcher, allowed the most runs, 126. In addition to Koufax, the circuit produced six other 20-game winners. They were Tony Cloninger of Milwaukee Braves with 24 victories, Drysdale, 23; Marichal and Sam Ellis, Cincinnati Reds, 22 apiece, and Jim Maloney of Cincinnati and Gibson, 20 each.

INTERPRETING WORLD EVENTS

Africans May Be Losers In Cutting Links With U.K.

By CARL MOULDER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

African demonstrations of anger at Harold Wilson's policy towards Rhodesia's rebel white minority have alienated British public opinion and probably added to the British prime minister's popularity at home.

Ironically, severing diplomatic relations with Britain and walking out during Wilson's speech to the United Nations in New York this week may have hurt the African cause.

By roughly scoring Wilson's plea for time and a bloodless solution in Rhodesia, the Africans could be driving British public opinion in the direction of making a deal with Ian Smith's rebel Rhodesian regime.

Even as Wilson was being snubbed by an African walkout at the U.N., British Conservatives sympathetic to Smith were collecting signatures on a 100-same parliamentary motion in support of some quarters as seeking negotiations with the Rhodesian rebels.

Wilson African leaders must have been aware beforehand that directing their public anger about Rhodesia against Britain might backfire.

BASED ON FRUSTRATION
But decisions to break off relations or snub Wilson at the U.N. were based on frustration at what most Africans clearly regard as British equivocation over Rhodesia. Internal African power struggles also may have been a factor in forcing the pace of the hate-Britain movement.

British motives are widely suspect in Africa, no matter what Wilson says about Rhodesia being a global moral issue. British talk about abjuring the use of force against "law and order" in Rhodesia is seen as a ship-none-too-subtle euphemism for "whites can't fight whites in Africa."

Believing Britain had expended in vain the only ammunition it would use against Rhodesia, African leaders may have decided they had little to lose by venting their anger on Britain.

Even leaders who privately doubted the wisdom of alienating British public opinion may have been forced to act under pressure from domestic popular opinion or from power-hungry government colleagues.

There are signs also that the Rhodesian issue is being used in the international rivalry for influence and leadership in Africa.

Breaking relations with Britain — without apparently jeopardizing the supply of British aid — might count heavily in the struggle for pan-African leadership.

Spending At Merry Clip And Car Dealers Happy

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canadians have been buying new cars at a record clip this year—more, even, than the industry had expected—but despite the boom one company has been caught with its sales down.

Canadian Motor Industries Ltd. came on the scene a year ago as a private company to sell and eventually, to assemble Japanese cars in Canada.

Since then things haven't gone exactly as planned. When it was first formed, the company was billed as the only car producer in Canada not tied to a parent outside the country.

Officials talked of sales of 5,000 to 10,000 cars in the first year, a network of 200 dealers was expected, a 15,000-car-a-year assembly plant was to be built and operating as soon as possible.

Last week CMI admitted its first hopes were too elaborate. Faced with financial woes, the company passed control to two Japanese groups, subject to approval of the Japanese government. Retail sales so far have totalled only 1,800 cars and the number of dealers is put at 25, both a far cry from early forecasts.

The assembly plant output has been scaled down to 4,000 cars annually to start and construction has been postponed until retail sales reach that figure—possibly as long as two years, officials of the reorganized firm say.

Taking over control of CMI will be Mitsui and Co. (Canada) Ltd., and Toyota and Isuzu, the two car firms whose products CMI is distributing.

Charlotte Sound Corp., which now holds 51 per cent of CMI, will reduce its holdings to 30 per cent while a Western Canadian group will hold the rest.

The Western group, led by industrialist Frank McMillan of Vancouver, has owned 33 per cent of Mitsui the remainder.

One Mitsui official said CMI's troubles have resulted from insufficient capital. The reorganization, he said, is aimed at remedying that.

He emphasized the change in plans does not affect the company's decision to put up an assembly plant at Point Edward, said, the company still is encouraged by the acceptance of the cars.

A CMI spokesman also noted there are two aspects to the company's operations. The immediate one is selling cars, while the longer-range aim is assembling them in Canada.

The first is succeeding, he said. Elsewhere on the business scene, the 3,700-member Toronto Real Estate Board warned of a possible slowdown in total housing starts across Canada in 1966.

Anticipating a drop in the number of apartment starts, the board predicts about 160,000 dwelling units will be built next year, compared with this year's record 170,000.

The board also says it is not likely there will be much easing in the tight mortgage money situation since most of next year's funds already have been committed.

The tight money, high interest situation was blamed as a factor by Laurendeau Finance Co., Canada's third-largest finance company, in the closing of its Regina office.

The branch was Laurendeau's only one in Saskatchewan. D. E. Fenton, Laurendeau vice-president, said "tight money" was the main reason for Laurendeau's profit decline in the three months ended Sept. 30 as net earnings fell to $625,000 from $834,000 a year earlier.

The high cost of money also was reflected by three chartered banks, Nova Scotia, Royal and Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, as they increased their prime lending rate to the legal ceiling of six per cent from 5 1/2%.

The rate, interest charged by banks to their best commercial customers, was increased to six per cent two weeks ago by the Toronto-Dominion and Montreal banks.

U.S. Business Turns Sights On Prospects For New Year

NEW YORK (AP)—With 1965 ebbing rapidly, U.S. businessmen turned their sights this week on 1966. What they saw looked good.

They were almost unanimous in predicting that next year will be about as good as 1965, which was a good one indeed.

There was little talk about the danger of inflation, and those who mentioned it minimized it. Frederic Donner, chairman of General Motors Corp., the world's biggest manufacturer, predicted 1966 will be another boom year for the automobile industry.

In 1965, sales of 9,300,000 cars and 1,500,000 trucks topped 1964 levels by more than 13 per cent.

Another automobile executive, Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., was equally optimistic.

He said: "We detect no signs of strain in the automobile market and another good year for the economy should mean another good year for the automobile industry."

Australia Bans Export Of Metals

CANBERRA (AP)—Australia has imposed a ban on exports of copper alloy and copper scraps and ingots.

The ban, to apply immediately, was announced in a joint statement by Trade Minister John McEwen, David Fairbairn, national development minister.

They said it had been introduced to conserve available supplies for Australian industry as for the foreseeable future there would not be copper production locally measurably above Australian demand.

The statement added the Australian action followed introduction of similar controls by a number of other countries.

PREDICTS STEEL GAIN
Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., predicted a continued rise in steel consumption with a gain of perhaps four per cent in the first quarter of 1966, compared with the like period of 1965.

John R. Kimberley, president of Kimberly-Clark Corp., said the expanding economy of 1966 should favor continued growth of sales and earnings for the pulp, paper and paperboard industry.

John E. Searl, chairman of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, predicted an increase in earnings of five to 10 per cent for the oil industry in the first half of 1966.

The automobile industry this week rolled out its 9,000,000th car of the year, far outdistancing the annual record of 7,912,132 set in 1955.

Steel production last week moved up 2.5 per cent to 2,173,000 tons, from 2,119,000 the previous week.

North Viet Nam's Use Of Jets To Increase Against U.S. Raids

MOSCOW (AP)—North Viet Nam will make increasing use of jet fighters planes for defense against American air raids, a Tass correspondent reported today from Hanoi.

Rockets supplied by the Soviet Union and anti-aircraft guns have provided the main defense so far, Vietnamese jet fighters appeared Friday, however, Tass said.

The official Soviet news agency correspondent also said North Vietnamese pilots claimed to have shot down 15 American planes.

According to U.S. figures, 157 planes have been lost in action over Viet Nam, mostly in 57-millimetre and 57-millimetre guns. Only a few have been reported by U.S. officials as shot down by fighters.

BOLTER AIR DEFENCES
The low kill rate of missiles—eight planes, according to a report from Washington—has, however, caused speculation in Washington of new Soviet efforts to bolster North Vietnamese air defenses.

The North Vietnamese Air Force is known to have about 50 MIG-17 and MIG-19 jet fighters. These models of Soviet-designed planes are out of date by comparison with the U.S. planes used over North Viet Nam.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow reported earlier this year that North Vietnamese pilots and maintenance men have been trained in the Soviet Union to fly and handle the MIG-21.

This is a supersonic fighter that could fight on approximately equal terms with American planes. Its appearance over North Viet Nam could alter the present tactical balance.

Swiss Apply For Winter Games

BERNE (Reuters) — Two Swiss resorts, St. Moritz and Interlaken, will apply for the 1980 Winter Olympic Games, it was announced by the Swiss Olympic committee Sunday.

The committee will make the applications to the International Olympic Committee, which already has received applications from Calgary and Sapporo, Japan.

The Swiss committee said that although the two resorts are willing to stage the games, the committee feels it would be fairer to hold them outside central Europe in 1972, since the 1964 games were in Austria and the 1968 games will be in France.

Slays Family For A Change

VIENNA (AP)—"I wanted to do something senseless for a change," Rainer Wachslovsky, 17, told police today as he confessed to the triple slaying of his parents and older brother.

Rainer said first he shot his brother Wilfried, 20, in his bed. Then he shot his mother, Paula, 31. Finally, he grabbed an axe and went to the kitchen where he killed his father, Emil, 39.

He returned to the bodies of his mother and brother and mutilated them by repeated blows with the axe. Police officials said they could not recall such a crime before in Vienna.

Settle Old Feud Say Spaniards

MADRID (AP)—Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella told the Spanish Cortes (parliament) today that the time is ripe for a settlement of the old dispute over Gibraltar with Britain "on the basis of restoration of Spanish territorial integrity to this area."

The British first occupied Gibraltar in 1704.

Castiella repeated accusations that Britain had repeatedly abused provisions of the treaty of Utrecht by which it claimed Gibraltar. He said that as the "only one obstacle . . . in the path of our collaboration with Britain today."

LONDON (Reuters) — A car company said Friday it has dozens of letters from people in Europe and the United States interested in buying sports cars put up for sale by the Beatles.

The prices: £4,100 ($12,300) for George Harrison's Aston Martin and £3,750 ($11,250) for John Lennon's Ferrari.
